Dear Parent / Carer

I am writing to you with regard to Year 11 study arrangements during the GCSE exam period. Students have been accessing specialist revision sessions that take place prior to exams. If students are not in either an exam or a revision session then they have been expected to attend lessons as usual.

As we enter the second half of the exam season there is now an increasing number of lessons where there is no longer an exam in that subject. With this in mind there may be times, for example following an afternoon examination, when students' exam preparation is best served by independent study at home. Whenever students wish to pursue this option then they can do so after notifying either Mr Lipton or a member of the School's Leadership Team.

If you have any queries over this or any other matter then please do not hesitate to contact the school.

Yours faithfully

Mr J de Rijk
