- We promote a mastery of reading through discussion and writing for all students, regardless of ability.
- We aim to elevate students' written communication and allow them to present their thoughts through extended writing.

Commitment

- We are committed to developing cultural capital, giving students a window into the world and the chance to read texts from across many communities.
- Our curriculum consistently supports students as they grow their analysis and critical thinking skills, both in fiction and non-fiction.
- We are dedicated to guiding our students to be adaptive writers, editing, and redrafting their work.
- We are committed to giving students the tools they need to prepare them for future learning and employment

Pride

- We are proud of our confident, fluent and articulate spoken English in lessons as well as the opportunities to practise this outside the classroom.
- Both our creative written work and analytical writing are reflective and honed through redrafting and peer assessment.
- We celebrate our ability to breakdown and understand complex ideas, themes, and social issues in a secure and mature way.
- We are proud of opportunities to demonstrate tolerance, resilience, and empathy through our written and spoken work.
